Subject: HD – Heavy Duty
New range of auxiliary kits for commercial vehicles

N° : SI0024EN

The quality requirements for the maintenance operations carried out on auxiliary drive systems no longer considers just single components but the complete system. This allows the installer to guarantee highly reliable replacements, as recommended by all manufacturers.

Through our continuous research and in cooperation with the vehicle manufacturers, we have been able to produce complete systems capable of meeting all technical and application requirements.

The wide range of Dayco kits for auxiliary drive systems fulfils the requirement of a continuously growing market.

Our range provides, in addition to a complete system, perfect technical compatibility of the components to guarantee maximum quality and service life at all times.

The Dayco kits offer:

- OE quality components.
- All the systems wearing parts (belts and rigid components)
- Latest OE specification components.
- Assembly instructions.

For further details – including the fully reviewed and updated price list – do not hesitate to contact the Dayco sales network.
